Who's Getting Old?
How About a Gift for Finder of Lost Keys?

Yesterday I heard from my old school friend Bruce Catton, whose history "A Stillness at Appomattox" won the 1954 Pulitzer prize. Bruce, who now lives in the Washington suburb of Bethesda, Md., wrote:

"I'm in the phone book, but in case you are like me and find that advancing years make it hard to read the fine print I'll give you the number now

Old eagle-eye never wore glasses in school, as your editor did. Now he says the fine print is bothering him — and he's only a year older than this scribbler.

If he thinks a metropolitan telephone directory is tough he ought to try tying a slip knot in a 4-pound-test spinning line. It's not quite as big as a human hair.

After such an ordeal — I finally got two rods rigged up in half an hour — I had a feeling I was setting up an invisible outfit to search for a fish that isn't there

As he gets on in the world every man picks up a list of charitable causes, and there's one I've been donating to for several years — which I thought I'd say a word for today.

In Cincinnati, Ohio, there is an organization known as the Disabled American Veterans, and some years ago they came up with a simple idea for raising funds to carry on their program of assisting crippled veterans to learn special skills, find employment, and other rehabilitation aids for not only the men but their dependents — or widows.

The DAV's idea was to perform a public service, trusting that it would produce a voluntary flow of funds back to Cincinnati — no "drive," no solicitation. The idea was:

To send out to each automobile owner each year a small tag bearing a facsimile of his car's license plate. The tag goes on your key-ring — and the reverse side of the tag says that if these keys are lost all the finder has to do is drop them in a mail box — the DAV will see that they are returned to their owner.

This was a simple and practical idea for a public service. I know many citizens must use the tags on their key-rings — and I hope most of them remember to make some gift to the DAV in return.

Herbert and Hubert Smith, 18-year-old twins of Blevins, were released by federal officials under $1,500 bonds Tuesday after waiving preliminary hearings before U. S. Commissioner Thelma Winham Monday afternoon on charges of interstate transportation of stolen cattle.

They were arrested three weeks ago by State Police Sgt. Milton Mosier and Hempstead and Howard county sheriffs. They are accused of stealing eight head of cattle and selling them through the Four States Livestock Auction at Texarkana, Texas.

The youths are also under indictment in both Hempstead and Howard counties where the thefts occurred at various times dating back to February 12.

Three other youths have been charged by authorities in the two counties. They are Kenneth Domestad, 17, Andalusia, Ala., and Hope, who is accused of participating in the thefts, and Marvin Smith, 18, and Joel Osburn, both of Hope. Domestad is being held in Hempstead county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond. Smith and Osburn have been released by Howard county authorities under $1,000 bonds each.

Says Segregation No Campaign Issue

LITTLE ROCK — The president of the Arkansas (Negro) Democratic Voters Association says the question of abolishing segregation in the school should not be an issue in this summer's governor's race.

L. S. McClinton of Little Rock yesterday criticized a statement by gubernatorial candidate Orval Faubus, who said "desegregation" is the No. 1 issue in the race.

"The Negro citizens now feel that they are a part of the population of these United States and the social, economic and educational life of a group of people in America should not make them a tool of discussion for the political gains of some persons who choose to run for public office," McClinton said.

McClinton did not mention Faubus by name.

Faubus is one of four candidates opposing Gov. Cherry's bid for re-nomination.

Roosevelt in Big Victory in California

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — California's unique run-on-tickets political system was shaken by a surprising Democratic vote in yesterday's primary election.

The Democratic surge overrode national party criticism of James Roosevelt and helped the eldest son of the late New Deal President win nomination for Congress from heavily Democratic Los Angeles. He'll oppose Republican Theodore (Ted) Owings in November.

Similarly, Rep. Robert L. Condon (D-Calif.), also renounced by Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell, was renominated and will face John F. Baldwin Jr., the Republican he defeated in 1952.

As gets on in the world every man picks up a list of charitable causes, and there's one I've been donating to for several years — which I thought I'd say a word for today.

Plane With 17 Aboard Down in China Sea

TOKYO (UPI) — A U. S. Navy PB seaplane with 17 persons aboard was missing over the East China Sea south of Japan, the Navy said today.

The twin-engined aircraft, bound for Hong Kong, was last heard from at 6:55 a. m. just as it passed south of Nagasaki. However, a call on a distress frequency was heard at 10:30 a. m. and it is believed to have come from the missing plane, the Navy said.

The plane's occupants were not identified, but officials said they included seven naval officers, two Marine officers and eight Navy enlisted men.

Surface craft and Navy and Air Force planes joined in searching the area where the plane was believed to have gone down, but found no trace. The plane, if it landed unharmed, could still be afloat, the Navy said.

Berlin Lost Millions of Its Youths in War But Already It Is a Cold War Beachhead

By HAL BOYLE
BERLIN — "All Germans around one table."

That was one of many slogans for unity changed this week during a three-day Communist-sponsored rally of 500,000 German boys and girls in the debris of East Berlin.

Watching the slow torrent of youth swirl through the rubble left by the war, I had to suppress a wistful urge to seize a banner and start yelling an old battle cry of my own youth:

"Up the alley! Down the street! Central High School can't be beat."

It seemed to me that the parades might just as well enjoy chanting "Down with Western Imperialism" as "Down with German instead of Western Imperialism."

"The Negro citizens now feel that they are a part of the population of these United States and the social, economic and educational life of a group of people in America should not make them a tool of discussion for the political gains of some persons who choose to run for public office," McClinton said.

Heavy Damage in Accident Here

A practically new auto driven by Bill Houston hit the back of a parked truck owned by the Trading Post, careened off into a fence causing heavy damage yesterday on Third Street.

Houston told investigating officers he pulled to the right to keep from getting hit by another car, hit the curb and lost control. Both vehicles were heavily damaged.

Personal Feud Flares Anew in Hearings

By RAYMOND LAHR and HERBERT FOSTER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) offered today "to testify under oath" in the Army-McCarthy hearings. If Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) will give sworn testimony before a special Senate committee on his personal finances.

McCarthy immediately accepted — provided that Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the Senate want to appoint a committee to investigate what he called the "smears" against him.

Symington announced shortly after the opening of today's session that he had made the offer in a letter to McCarthy.

McCarthy has been demanding since Friday that Symington testify under oath on what part he had in instigating the Army charges against the Wisconsin Republican and his chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn.

Symington proposed the creation of a special Senate committee to be named by Nixon with the advice of Republican and Democratic leaders, to investigate questions about McCarthy's affairs raised in a 1952 report by the Senate Rules committee.

Symington said McCarthy "persistently refused" to testify before the Rules Committee in 1952. He challenged the senator to tell the proposed new committee, under oath, whether he used "close associates and members of his family" to hide his financial transactions to dominate all Indochina.

Gidwell addressed a hostile assembly in defense of the Indochina policies of Premier Joseph Laniel's threatened coalition government.

Symington's offer was a renewal of a verbal duel with McCarthy that has enlivened the Army-McCarthy hearings since last Friday.

McCarthy said he was glad Symington's proposal was made on television so the millions of viewers "can see how low an alleged man can sink."

Molotov May Have Killed All Peace Chances

By MAX T. BRELSON

GENEVA (UPI) — Western diplomats as well as glumly today that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had it all killed chances of peace in war-torn Indochina by his latest policy statement.

Outlining his "peace terms late yesterday to the nine-party Indochina conference, Molotov not only raised new issues but leveled charges which aroused western resentment.

Western leaders prepared to voice formally their reaction to the Russian's statement at another Indochina session this afternoon, but their spokesmen already had indicated their pessimism.

A U. S. spokesman called the Molotov speech "purely destructive." A British spokesman said it contained nothing helpful. The French called it "extremely aggressive" and said it contained "provocative terms."

Western delegates were as much disturbed by the hostile remarks in Molotov's speech as by his actual proposals.

He accused the United States of masterminding a plan to undermine the Geneva conference and extend the Indochina war.

He criticized the policies of Premier Joseph Laniel's government, which is now facing a severe test in the French National Assembly.

Some Western delegation circles thought this was a warning to the French parliament that if it installed an appeasement government the Vietnamese might turn to the French in Indochina as the Vietminh did that bloody December.

Acceptance of the Vietminh proposal now, he said, "would reverse the climate of 1946 and lead to a new and inevitable 19th of December."

Some Western delegation circles thought this was a warning to the French parliament that if it installed an appeasement government the Vietnamese might turn to the French in Indochina as the Vietminh did that bloody December.

A U. S. spokesman declared Molotov's speech was designed to have an unfavorable impact on French public opinion, which threatens to overturn the shaky Laniel government.

Western hopes received their big molt when Molotov got down to the Communist terms for an Indochina peace.

By KENNETH MILLER

PARIS (UPI) — French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault told the National Assembly today that the Geneva conference has revealed the true aims of the Communists — to dominate all Indochina.

Gidwell addressed a hostile assembly in defense of the Indochina policies of Premier Joseph Laniel's threatened coalition government.

The foreign minister hoped to help Laniel stave off a confidence vote which might topple the shaky government and produce a "peace at any price" attitude toward the Indochina problem.

Bidault asked the assembly for a "sentiment of confidence" in the government's negotiations at Geneva.

He traced the highlights of the Far East conference to date. He said France had tried to take care of the easiest problems first.

Therefore asked the Communists to evacuate Cambodia and Laos, which with Viet Nam make up the three associated states of Indochina.

The foreign minister hoped to help Laniel stave off a confidence vote which might topple the shaky government and produce a "peace at any price" attitude toward the Indochina problem.

Mrs. Younger, 33, took a commanding lead over Jack E. Tammey, who has represented populous Los Angeles county in the state Senate for the past 18 years in yesterday's Republican primary.

He traced the highlights of the Far East conference to date. He said France had tried to take care of the easiest problems first.

Therefore asked the Communists to evacuate Cambodia and Laos, which with Viet Nam make up the three associated states of Indochina.

Cannon fire from the attacking plane killed one member of the crew and injures two others. The transport was carrying a load of purebred pigs from London to Zagreb. It made an emergency landing at Graz in Austria.

Crewmen said the plane was hit while over Yugoslavia by a Soviet MiG fighter which tried to force the transport to land across the nearby Hungarian frontier.

A communiqué from the Belgian Foreign Affairs Ministry said:

"The investigation carried on the spot of the attack of a commercial Sabena plane on June 3 demonstrates that the attacking plane is a MiG15 jet fighter bearing the identification marks of the Soviet Air Forces."

"Under these conditions, the Belgian government asked the Belgian Embassy in Moscow to protest to the Soviet government to demand the punishment of guilty party and compensation for the victims."

Communist newspapers have indicated that the Red View on the incident was that the Belgian plane had violated Hungarian territory and had refused to land after it had been ordered to do so.

The crew of the Belgian plane denied having left the proper air corridor on its way to Zagreb. At no time, the crew claimed, was the plane flying over Hungarian territory.

blue shirt initialed FJD. Someone had taught them how to march in ordered rows.

The someone who had done these things was wise in the ways of corrupting the young. He was using exactly the same tactics Adolf Hitler had. And, just like Hitler, he wasn't going to all that trouble just to beat Central High School.

He even put on a tremendous night fireworks display to wind up the rally. I stood in a dence mass of these German boys and girls near Marx-Engels Platz that night, watching the great fury showers overhead, hearing the crash of explosions, and wondered why anyone who had lived through Berlin's many nights of terror during the last war could enjoy this display. And as a matter of fact, there wasn't much cheering.

When the show was over, these children of yesterday went quietly back to their bivouac areas, or paused to make love in shattered doorways. At a Communist-sponsored youth rally the young people don't have to worry about snippy old prying chaperones. They are encouraged to like one another.

Here in Berlin this past conclave of youth in the Eastern sector was taken by most as only another incident in a great battle that has returned home after a weeks visit with her daughter, Miss Mabel Smith of Tyler, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson have returned from a weeks visit with their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson, Jr. in Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hart are leaving today for St. Louis where they will attend a convention and also attend the Cardinal-Brooklyn game.

Mrs. J. W. Patterson and Mrs. Paul Klipsch were guests of the Prescott B&P club on Thursday night. Mrs. Patterson installed the Prescott officers for the coming year.

Ball-point painting was an interesting feature of the Doyle Home Demonstration Club when it met with Mrs. Lawton Cobb, June 1st. Six members, three visitors, and Mrs. Lorraine Wylie, home demonstration agent, were present.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. O. L. Westfall, president, by the reading of the women's HD Creed and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" was sung by the group. Mrs. Cobb gave the devotional, reading Proverbs 1:1-9. Roll call was answered by telling, "What I accomplished this month."

Reports were given by Mrs. J. L. Westfall, poultry leader; Mrs. George Boozer, dairy leader; and Mrs. O. L. Westfall, gardening.

Mrs. Lawton Cobb, clothing leader, gave some information on proper storage of out-of-season garments and Mrs. Mark Jackson, health leader talked on sanitation in and around the home - the domestic mosquito and house fly control.

Mrs. Wylie gave a very interesting demonstration on ball-point painting; also, attractive baskets made of greeting cards. Mrs. Boozer and Mrs. Walston received the birthday gifts of the month.

After a recreation period, refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. George Boozer on July 6th.

Roosevelt in pressed confidence of victory.

Owings is city clerk of Culver City. He was running fourth in the Democratic race. But Roosevelt, who captured his own party race by a margin of about 6-1 over his closest rival was running second to Owings in the GOP column.

In 238 precincts out of 301, chief opponent, newspaper publisher Ned Redding, had 2,173.

In the Republican contest Owings polled 4,510 and Roosevelt 3,771, also in 238 precincts.

Altogether, six candidates were in the Republican race and seven in the Democratic.

Another candidate, Republican Richard Westbrook, withdrew and threw his support to a Democrat Redding to "beat Roosevelt." That was the campaign cry of all Roosevelt's opponents throughout the campaign. They hit hard on his domestic strife and frequently quoted Democratic Chairman Miller's statement that Roosevelt should withdraw until his marital difficulties were straightened out.

Shortly before the campaign gone on unceasingly since Hitler's fall the continuous battle for the young German mind, an endless tug-of-war between East and West.

Nobody seems to feel that anybody is quite ready yet to blow the bugle, but it is widely taken for granted that in time the bugle will be blown. The present problem is to win the young mind to the future purpose.

But it must have made many besides myself tremendously sad, here in a vast capital still decaying in the rust of a lost war, to see half a million boys and girls waving crimson banners and marching in step.

Berlin alone lost almost exactly that number of lives in the last conflict. Today it feels it is already the great beachhead of the cold war.

In conceding defeat, Redding congratulated Roosevelt and said day when Rep. Louis C. Rabaut (D-Mich.) insisted successfully that the House pass his bill instead of a duplicate sponsored by Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) and already approved by the Senate. He said his bill had been on the calendar for nearly a year longer than Ferguson's and the House should get credit for initiating the legislation.

"All Democrats must now close ranks for a final victory in November."

Both bills would make the pledge read: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, invisible with liberty and justice for all."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Both bills have passed the Senate and both have bills to insert "Under God" in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Both bills would make the pledge read: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, invisible with liberty and justice for all."

"I think the United States might well unveil the new face of war," he said in an address prepared for commencement exercises at the Catholic University of America.

"If this display were made, I think the peoples of the world and their leaders would cry out with a great voice:

"We reject war! We choose Peace! We refuse methods of violence as the way out of our conflicts and interests. . . . We choose the methods of reason, not of wreckage. Let justice be done."

I Love Lucy
in 4th Year,
Still on Top

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) I Love Lucy is starting its fourth year of laugh-provoking programs and shows no signs of slackening its pace as the No. 1 TV show of the nation.

On most audience ratings, car-topped Lucille Ball has been able to nose out tight-lipped Joe Friday of Dragnet. Her supremacy in the surveys has been going on almost since the series started.

Having witnessed the inception of the show, I dropped by the set when the players started their first show for the fourth season. It will be seen next September. Lucy was up to her usual shenanigans, sitting on a ledge outside the apartment while Ricky and the Mertzes hunted for her.

The show did not appear to have changed in its three years of popularity. There was the same frantic movement of three cameras and crewmen to get everything rehearsed for the evening performance. There was the same earnest cooperation and striving for perfection. One thing that distinguishes I Love Lucy and Dragnet too from its competitors is its complete professionalism. The laughs may not always be there when expected, but everything is done with expert craftsmanship.

I asked Lucille how long she thought the show could continue. "It's a mystery to me," she replied. "We have no worries as long as the writers (Jess Oppenheimer, Madelyn Pugh, Bob Carroll Jr.) keep coming up with such fabulous scripts. They're amazing."

There had been a report that the show would use more guest stars. Recent members of the cast have been Tennessee Ernie and golfer Jimmy Demaret. Lucille said they had no plans for more guests — unless they are as fabulous as Tennessee Ernie.

"The Long, Long Trailer," which Lucille and Desi Arnaz made last summer was a hit, and I asked if they planned any more movies. "Not this summer," Lucille replied. "We're going to Del Mar for two months after we do five shows for next season. If we did a picture, it would leave us no time off."
